A CORNER IN CORN.

Secretary Foster Improving.

A BIG FAILURE IN NEW YORK.

The Lively Encounter of a School Teacher.

A Locomotive Explodes Killing Engineer and Fireman.

A Lively Encounter.

SAN BERNARDINO (Cal.), Nov. 27.—Last evening shots were heard at the city school house on 5th street and a minute later the school bell rang. The fire department and a crowd of citizens surrounded the school building, when it was learned that Professor Alex Frye, superintendent of the city schools, had visited the school building to do some work, and on going into the building he saw a light upstairs, and found a pile of paper against the stairs leading to the belfry on fire. He also saw some men, one of whom he grappled and downed. Another man then pulled him off and kicked him in the back. The man who was down fired the shots at Frye, one taking effect in the left arm. Frye, finding two ruffians to contend with, backed out, and the villains escaped. Frye then turned the hose on the fire and rang the bell. The fire was out before the fire department arrived. Frye's wound is only a slight one. During the past year three school houses have been burned and attempts made on two more.

Corner in Corn.

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—Corn in November is still on, but it attracts very little attention in comparison with what wide fluctuations in that future would indicate. There is scarcely a transaction per hour, and in the meantime the market is liable to fluctuate several cents. At opening, one sale was made at 80 advance, 5 cents over the closing prices of Wednesday. That was the only sale at that figure, and straightway it was offered down to 76, without any further business resulting. The corner is a natural one, owing to the shortness of the stock contract on corn, both new and old. No one will be surprised to see the price go up to $1.00.

A Railroad Accident.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 27.—The details of last Tuesday's accident on the Orel-Graisse line, by which over twenty persons lost their lives, are now being received here. By the breaking of a tire, one of the carriages was thrown from the rails over a parapet bridge into the river below. The first carriage in its fall dragged four others after it, and all five of them broke through the ice and disappeared. Fifteen persons on the train were badly injured. The work of extricating the bodies from the mass of wreckage in the river is proceeding and at last accounts 26 bodies had been recovered.

Another Suspension.

WILMINGTON (N. C.), Nov. 27.—The Clinton Loan Association at Clinton, Sampson county, has suspended. It was a small State banking company with a capital of $50,000, and has been known to be in a shaky condition for some time. Its failure has no connection whatever with the suspension of the First National Bank of this city.

Locomotive Explosion.

AKRON (O.), Nov. 27.—This morning the locomotive Cleveland, of the Akron & Columbus Railroad Company, exploded about a mile south of this city, instantly killing engineer John Byron and fireman George Farmer.

Prize Fight.

BIRMINGHAM, Nov. 27.—In the glove fight to a finish here last night for the benefit of the Alabama Athletic Club, Eugene McElroy of Birmingham knocked out Frank Fitzwilliams of Cincinnati in the third round.

A Murderous Gang.

ATOKA (I. T.), Nov. 27.—At Lehigh two unknown men fired into the house of Prof. Weaustau and killed his wife.

Grain Market.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27.—Wheat, buyer, '91, $1.86; season, $1.93.

A New York Firm Assigns.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Edwin M. Field, Daniel L. Lindley, John Frederick Weichers and Herman C. Helmus, composing the firm of Field, Lindley, Weichers & Co., bankers and brokers, assigned to-day without preference.

The failure was announced on the Produce Exchange at noon, but the grain markets were only slightly affected. The house was an old one, but lately has been somewhat restricted in its dealings. The failure is attributed to the rise in corn at New York and Chicago. The firm has been protecting some large lines of from the S. V. White deal and has been on the short side of the November market and a few days ago had to cover 500,000. Their operations were mainly in Chicago, but to some extent here. Other articles have been against them, it is said, especially coffee, while they had some dealings as well in Wall street. Just how large an amount the firm finds itself unable to pay is not clear. The head of the firm is the son of Cyrus W. Field.

Assignee Gould, when seen at the firm's office this afternoon, said: "The assignment was made for this reason, that Edward M. Field, senior member of the firm, has apparently gone distracted. His illness resembles incipient paresis, and is due to overwork and the great responsibility resting upon him as manager of the finances of the firm. His mother died last Monday and the event seemed to bring to a climax his mental troubles, which some of his friends detected two years ago. His physician told me a few days ago that Field was not right in his mind. Field having the sole management of the funds of the firm, it at once became necessary to get from him their condition. So I went in company with other members of the firm to his residence and tried to find out how things stood. We failed, however, to obtain from him any light on the situation, as his mind would continually stray away from the subject. We had undertaken a hopeless task. The assignment then became imperative in order to protect the firm and its customers. I cannot say at the present time how the firm stands. I hope the assets will exceed the liabilities, but just now I cannot say much. The firm's money has been used for the promotion of an enterprise in which they trusted and which promised great results. This money, I am confident, is secured beyond peradventure. The firm did a general banking and brokering business, and is represented on the floors of the stock, produce and coffee exchanges. This assignment is due wholly to the causes which I have designed, and is not in any way the result of the losses caused by speculation. I am of the opinion that everything will come out all right in the end."

The firm is believed to have been hurt by the corner in November corn, of which their principal customers are said to have been short. In August the credit of the firm was rated at from $750,000 to $1,000,000. For some time after the suspension was announced the stock market was stagnant, all business being practically neglected, the floor brokers being too interested in the closing of the firm's contracts to make any new deals.

Sidney Dillon, President of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, ex-Judge John F. Dillon, counsel of the company, and General Dodge, a large stockholder, are at the office of Field Lindley, Weichers & Company, waiting for some one to show up and tell the condition of certain Union Pacific securities held by the firm for loans. These gentlemen have no idea as to what condition the securities are in and fear they have been hypothecated. Judge Dillon spoke freely about the affairs of the firm. He said the creditors are numerous and that the firm discounted paper for various houses and in the main received securities. The all-important question is as to the condition of their securities.

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—Field, Lindley & Co., of New York, whose failure was announced to-day, dealt here extensively through commission houses. The news of the failure did not seriously effect the prices of this market. Coin went up about one-half a cent, though it did not appear that there were any sales for their account. Wheat declined $\frac{3}{4}$ of a cent momentarily, but soon recovered the loss and more.

The Secretary Improving.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Secretary Foster is improving slowly and is now able to sit up during the day. It is expected he will be able to resume his official duties in a few days.

The St. Paul Democrats Pull For the Convention.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 27.—Steps are being taken by all the commercial exchanges, and business men generally, to bring the Democratic National Convention to St. Paul.

ATTEMPT TO LYNCH

A Corporal by British Soldiers.

MORMON MISSIONARY AT WORK.

A Deficit of Eight Million Marks in Germany.

Trouble Over the San Francisco Assessments.

Angry Soldiers.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—There was much excitement at the Horse Guards to-day upon receipt of the intelligence from Aldershot, where there is situated great numbers of military campers and barracks, that a spirit of murderous insubordination is prevalent in one of the regiments stationed at that place. It is believed this affair is not due to any feeling against the army regulations or the rations served, but entirely the result of a feeling entertained by the privates of the Second battalion, the Prince of Wales' Light Infantry (Royal Canadians), against a Corporal who had taken advantage of the little authority entrusted to him to make life as unpleasant as possible for those placed under him. By his petty tyrannies the Corporal rendered himself obnoxious to the men, who made complaints to higher officers, which were not noticed. So bitterly angry did the privates become against the Corporal that they concluded that the only way to avenge themselves was to kill him. As the Corporal was going his rounds he was seized by the men. He attempted to call for assistance, but his cries were speedily silenced by a gag. Despite his struggles he was dragged to a convenient spot, a noose thrown around his neck and he was soon suspended in the air. The end of the rope was made fast and the self-appointed executioners decamped. Fortunately the Corporal had been hanging for only a short time when a Sergeant discovered him and cut the rope. The Corporal was almost dead, and it required the most strenuous efforts on the part of the surgeon and associates to resuscitate him. It is believed it will be some time before he can resume his duties. In any event, it is thought he has been taught a lesson. The military authorities are making strenuous efforts to find out the perpetrators, but thus far they are unable to discover who they are.

A Mormon at Work.

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—A special from North Branch, Mich., says a Mormon elder by the name of Taylor is converting people of Millis, a small lumbering town near here, by the score. An exodus of the population is in progress. Farmers are among the enthusiasts, who announce their determination to repair to Salt Lake City. The people affected are mostly poor, and the vivid descriptions of wealth and luxury had their effect, as well as the promise of spiritual salvation.

Charged With Forgery.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27.—Word was received to-day that A. J. Branch, former President of the Ohio and Mississippi Valley Transportation Co., with headquarters at Newport, Ohio, has been arrested at Los Angeles on a telegram from this city charging him with forgery. It is alleged that he forged three separate checks, purporting to have been drawn by J. D. Spreckles, on the First National Bank, for thirty-seven and forty-five dollars respectively.

To Be Punished.

PARIS, Nov. 27.—The Archbishop of O'Hennesy has written a letter similar to the one which was used in the prosecution of the Archbishop of Aix. It is expected that the government will take notice of the letter and cause its author to be prosecuted.

Acquitted.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—The naval court martial, which has been investigating the fatal gun practice of H. M. S. Plucky, to-day rendered a decision acquitting Lieutenant Sydney Frampole, the commander of the Plucky, from all responsibility.

Honduras Loss.

SAN PEDRO (Honduras), Nov. 27.—The Republic suffered a severe loss in the death by accidental drowning, on November 4th, of General Edward Kraft of San Pedro, the commandant of the post of Puerto Cortes.

Trouble Over the San Francisco Assessments.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27.—Regarding the charge that the city and county assessments have been illegally reduced, City Attorney Durst said to-day that he furnished the Grand Jury some days ago with a statement in which he set forth that the power heretofore exercised had not been that of reassessment, or, in other words, that of the Board of Equalization, but that strictly of correcting errors and striking off assessments that were absolutely illegal.

In the matter of the California Safe Deposit and Trust Company, Durst says: "The California Safe Deposit and Trust Company was reduced from $20,000 to $5,000, the same as last year. The error was in making application to the Board of Equalization. The application should have called for a reduction to $5,000. They were assessed last year at $5,000. Mr. Siebe raised the assessment to $20,000. They went before the County Board of Assessors to have the assessment reduced."

Deputy Assessor O'Reilly states as supplemental to the above that the assessment in the case of the Deposit Company was of the franchise only; that the assessment was reduced by the Board of Equalization, but that by an error the reduction was not made in the roll.

They Won't Amalgamate.

CORRIGANA (Texas), Nov. 27.—The Texas State Farmers' Alliance adopted a resolution appointing 25 delegates to represent Texas at the Memphis, Tenn., convention next month. Resolutions condemning the action of the Supreme Council at Indianapolis and proposing to sever all connection with the National Alliance and providing for a separate organization with entirely new officers, were adopted.

The Figaro Prosecuted.

PARIS, Nov. 27.—When the Archbishop of Aix was convicted of insulting the Minister of Justice and Public Worship, and fined 3,000 francs, the Figaro opened a public subscription and raised the amount necessary to pay the fine. The Government will now prosecute the editor of this paper for his action, holding it to be contrary to law.

A Large Deficit.

BERLIN, Nov. 27.—The debate on the budget began in the Reichstag to-day. The secretary of the treasury said he expected there would be a deficit of 8,000,000 marks during the present fiscal year. The yield derived from custody showed an effort of commercial treaties in restricting export. He also said that nothing had yet been decided regarding a new loan.

The French Navy.

PARIS, Nov. 27.—The naval report of the Budget Committee's report sets forth that France now possesses 30 iron clads, 26 cruisers, 15 dispatch boats, and 54 torpedo boats. The Senate has voted the approval of a plan for imposing maximum tariff rates only on living animals and their products.

The President is Preparing His Message.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—The usual Friday afternoon Cabinet meeting was omitted to-day in order that the President might devote the entire day to the preparation of his message to Congress.

Auburn Items.

AUBURN, Nov. 27.—Thanksgiving Day was quite generally observed here yesterday. Rain is needed badly. The wells are getting low.

Selecting a Jury.

DENVER, Nov. 27.—The selecting of the jury in the case of Dr. S. Thatcher Graves began this morning. Up to noon but two jurors had been secured.

Weather Report.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27.—Forecast, fair weather.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEVITIES.

The Grand Jury of New York indicted Chase, the alleged opium smuggler.

Beals has offered a reward of $5,000 for the return of his child which was kidnapped at Kansas City. No questions asked.

A Loss Made.

The Southern Pacific Company have made a wheat rate of $5 per ton from all points in this State from Co. Utah, to Fort Costa, which should be satisfactory to the farmers.

Everybody is invited to the revival services now in progress at the Methodist Episcopal Church, conducted by Rev. Jesse Smith, evangelist of California. Please bear in mind that there will be service Saturday evening and that on Sunday we are looking for a great day, and that all the services will be of a revival character.

Death of Mrs. Drexel.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 27.—Mrs. Anthony J. Drexel, wife of the head of the great banking firm of Drexel & Co., died this morning at her country house at Rummymode, Delaware county.

Friday, November 27, 1891

By a recent compilation it is learned that the Comstock has produced since its discovery up to January 1, 1890, in gold $187,569, 978.28, and in silver $192,687, 648.69, or a total of both metals of $380,257,628. Dividends have been paid amounting to $129,045, 980, and assessments amounting to $73,860,315, which shows that $55, 185,665 has been paid in dividends in excess of assessments. Of this amount the Com. Virginia has produced $128,889,574.12, and declared dividends to the amount of $80, 160,000. This mine has been assessed only $2,667,900. It has paid dividends in excess of all assessments of $77,492,100, which speaks well for the management of that property. It seems very strange that a State which has contributed so much to the wealth of the world in precious metals from one group of mines should be held in such supreme contempt by her less favored sisters, but possibly the fault may lie at our own door for the men who have made the money have carried it all away to build up other States without even giving Nevada the credit that was her due. And by way of parenthesis, we will ask if Nevada should not have a great big say in shaping the future financial policy of the government. While silver is undergoing the ordeal of the financial smelter and gold is on top it should be remembered that she has contributed her quota of bright and shining twenties to the coffers of the nation, and her demands for the remonetization of silver are but just. The printing presses would have had to have been run on rag money night and day with nothing back of it had not Nevada yielded up her hidden treasure to the nation in time of sore distress.

Brazil seems to be content under the transfer of the Presidency to Peixotto, but he cannot legally hold the office. The Federal Constitution makes a general provision in Article XII that the Vice President shall succeed the President in case of disability or absence, but Article XLII specifically provides that in case of a vacancy from any cause before two years of the Presidential term shall have expired, a new election shall be had. Article XLIII says that if the President shall be impeached or become disabled immediately upon his election, the Vice President shall succeed, but that would probably be interpreted to mean temporarily until after election. It will, therefore, be in order to hold an election by the people for a new President, if the Constitution is to be upheld.

CONSTERNATION is reported in Chicago over the fact that some restaurants and boarding houses have been serving horse meat for beef. As the consumers did not recognize the difference until told of it and no charge of unwholesomeness lies against horse meat, there seems to be no occasion for "consternation," unless it be among those whose law demands the division of the hoof. The open use of horse meat is growing in Europe. Our troops on the frontier often ration themselves on horse and mule meat in the absence of regular supplies and are none the worse for it.

ST. PAUL is after the Democratic National Convention hot foot. It will never do to let Minneapolis crowd over her sister city with the Republican Convention. The four-mill city beat her rival over 30,000 in population, according to the last census, which is glory enough; besides, the Democrats have as much at stake as the Republicans in the Northwest.

Among other things to numerous, though by no means tedious, to mention to be thankful for, we of San Francisco have certainly the finest weather for Thanksgiving day of any city in the Union.—Bulletin.

A BANDIT QUEEN.

Surrounded by Outlaws in the Australian Wilds.

Reclaimed by Love from Her Wild and Lawless Life and Now Residing with Her Husband in America.

Three years ago Mrs. Wharton J. Anderson, a middle aged woman of rare beauty, was the leader of a band of outlaws in Australia. Although possessed of over a quarter of a million of dollars, she went to that wild country, collected the band and placed herself at the head of it. Her object was not to steal, but to enable her, for the first time in her life, to have absolutely her own way in everything and make her will law. Her outlaws—for outlaws they certainly were—were paid to do her bidding, and to them she became known as "The Bandit Queen."

Up to the time she was twenty-five years of age, says the San Francisco Examiner, she had never had her wish in the slightest thing, and even her smallest wish was denied. Left an orphan when but a year old, she was adopted by Maj. E. Thompson, a cruel, stern man, who absolutely governed her as a man would an animal. A woman, he always declared, was simply a slave. About four years ago he died, leaving all his property to his adopted daughter.

When she found herself in possession of a fortune she knew at last that the aim of her life was reached. She converted everything into cash and went to Australia. Gradually she gathered around her men who were well-known in that country for fearlessness and who lived on the proceeds of their unlawful acts. She finally collected a band of thirty members. Each she compelled to take an oath to do her slightest wish. To each she paid a large monthly salary, and all they had to do to earn it was to obey her.

Mounted on the finest horses that could be procured, with the queen at the head, the band that was soon to become famous rode to the large wooden house that had purposely been erected in a secluded and most desolate spot. There they lived on every luxury that the season afforded. Dressed in dazzling costume the queen commanded them, and her most absurd order was instantly obeyed. She went so far as to attempt to mold the men's thoughts. Gradually it became known that a beautiful woman was the leader of a lawless band and the strange house became the sole topic of conversation. She was declared to be enormously rich, and many weird stories were told about her. She never appeared in the towns or cities, and she was a mystery to all.

Many wealthy Englishmen heard of her, and all desired to behold her. William Griffin, a young officer of the queen's army, who was stationed in Australia, became possessed of a strange idea that he must see the mysterious woman who, Dame Rumor said, was remarkably beautiful. Securing a leave of absence he set out for her palace, and after a weary journey he found himself within her grounds.

No sooner had he entered than he was seized by armed men and roughly rushed into the presence of the one he sought.

"You are my prisoner for three months," she said, "and for three months you must obey my wishes."

Each day she issued a written set of orders for the prisoner to execute and his keepers saw that he obeyed the orders to the letter. Two hours each day he spent in her presence and listened silently to her as she told him of his many faults and the many reforms that would have to occur before he was liberated. He was made to ride the wildest of horses, perform daring feats he never thought he was capable of, and sometimes he was compelled to work about the place.

When three months had gone he was ushered into the leader's presence, and after she compelled him to take an oath to respect all women for the remainder of his life he was escorted by mounted men about two miles from the place and set at liberty.

About nine months ago Wharton J. Anderson, a wealthy young Englishman, who was traveling in Australia, heard of "The Bandit Queen," and determined to see her and find out if all the queer tales he had heard about her were true. With some difficulty he sought her out, and when he had entered the grounds he was seized, as others before him had been, and ushered into the leader's presence.

In the same way as Griffin was treated so was Anderson dealt with. He, however, rebelled and declined either to obey orders or listen to any directions whatever.

Of one thing he was positive. He knew that he loved this mysterious and beautiful woman, and he determined to make her his wife or die in the attempt. Somehow or other she acted strangely in his presence, and the end of it all was that love conquered.

Two weeks afterward the home was deserted and the band had separated. Mable Thompson, no longer the "Bandit Queen," was married to young Anderson at Sydney, and they immediately sailed for America, landing in San Francisco a few months ago.

Perhaps the most disgraced man in Somerset county, says the Lewiston Journal, is a justice of the peace who is the owner of a fine garden, the pride of his heart. The other day he was informed that an unruly cow had wrought desolation in his Eden, and at once ordered the animal sent to the pound. Then he went up to view the wreck and after noting the vacant places where the beets and corn had been, the trampled-down squashes and cabbages and demoralized pea vines and sunflowers, and ascertaining, as he supposed, the owner of the cow, he made out a writ against the individual, containing fourteen different and distinct counts, including trespass, forcible entry, malicious mischief, nuisance, riotous and disorderly conduct, and assault and battery with intent to kill. It was then that he learned that the trespasser was his own cow, and his ire cooled as he meekly paid a fine driver for getting her out of the pound.

JOTTINGS.

J. F. Aitken beats up the town with his wood and coal.

Jake Becker set out such a fine lunch yesterday that he spoiled it for his Thanksgiving dinner.

Chamberlain set an elegant dinner yesterday, but no better than he does every day.

People are beginning to inspect the elegant stock of jewelry displayed by Richard Herz with an eye on Xmas.

Skin Diseases.

What speaks more disgusting than that of a man or woman with a skin disease which shows itself in pimples and blotches on hands, arms, face and neck? It is simply impure blood. See what Brandreth's Pills did for a chronic case.

George Chapman, Placerville, Mich., says:

"For four years I was in the Mounted Infantry in the U. S. Army, residing during that time principally in Texas. Almost all that time I had a chronic skin disease, characterized by an eruption over the entire surface of my legs, thighs, arms and chest. The doctors termed it eczema. I had given up all hope of ever being cured, when Brandreth's Pills were recommended to me. I concluded to try them, and have thanked God daily since then that I did so. I used them for about three months, and by that time was completely cured and have never had any trouble since."

Peace on Earth

Is not the bomb vouchsafed to the chronic, nervous invalid. Slight noises startle him, old and unexpected sensations perplex him. He neither sleeps soundly nor eats heartily, he is almost invariably troubled with dyspepsia. What should he do? Begin and pursue systematically a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. With digestion fortified and food assimilated, strength returns, the nerves grow tranquil and a rest of life returns. A healthy consumption indeed, and not only effectually, but pleasantly wrought by the Bitters. Biliousness, indigestion, nervousness, kidney complaint are also prevented and cured by this sovereign regulating medicine. Try it at once if your nerves are out of order, and if their weakness is perpetuated by the existence of disease. A superb appetizer and promoter of sound repose.

Pronounced Hopeless, Yet Saved

From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd of Groton, S. D. we quote: "War taken with a bad cold, which settled on my lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in consumption. Four doctors gave me up saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles; it has cured me. I thank God I met you well and healthy woman." Trial bottles free at W. F. Pinner's drugstore, regular size 50 c. and $1.

Baby cried,
Mother sighed,
Doctor prescribed: Castoria!

This most excellent medicine is for sale by J. B. McCullough, Druggist.

At the Pavilion last evening was the merriest set of masks that ever assembled in any town in the State. When the grand march opened there were fully 100 couples in line. WADSWORTH NOTES.

A Batch of News From the Gazette's Special Correspondent.

EDITOR GAZETTE.—Our town presents quite a lively appearance at present. Several new buildings are being erected. Mrs. Kenyon, Will Smith and John Lee are putting up neat little houses. Mr. McCulloch, of the rink is building a lodging house that promises a fine appearance. Houses are in demand and rents are high accordingly. A few houses here would be a good investment, and now that the Government is to set aside the land on which Wadsworth stands from the Pyramid reservation, and good titles can be procured, no doubt a better class of buildings will go up, and a prosperous future lies before us.

The past week has been one of events in the social life of Wadsworth. Last Sunday the Rev. J. W. Henry delivered his farewell address to the congregation and the Sunday school of the Union Church after a service of eighteen months. It was with regret that we saw him and his family depart on Tuesday for Oakland, where they will in future reside. They leave attended by the best wishes of the community. This departure is worth of religious services only on chance occasions as some one sees fit to take pity on us. It seems as though a community of some six hundred or more people ought to support one minister.

Scout McCracken and Miss Amy Buntell, two of Wadsworth's most popular young people, were married at the home of the bride's mother on Monday evening. The wedding would have been a very quiet affair but for the necessary (?) adjunct of every like occasion in this busy "valley," which was given as only Wadsworth boys know how to do it.

The ladies of the G. L. A. have been busy preparing for a number of days preparing for their grand ball which took place Thanksgiving eve. The hall was tastefully decorated with banners and appropriate mottoes, while the ladies proved themselves very efficient as managers.

The supper, which was laid in the dining hall, recently erected by E. Fowler, was satisfactory in every respect. Fredrick's band, of Reno, furnished the music, and dancing was kept up until 5 o'clock a. m. It was a grand success and thoroughly enjoyed by all. Winnemucca, Truckee, Reno and the surrounding country were well represented.

The K. of P. are preparing for a grand ball to be given on December 10. O. M.

Wadsworth, Nov. 26.

THE KILLING OF WELCH.

Particulars of the Fractious Given by Judge Currier.

The GAZETTE learns from Judge Currier, who was called to Austin on a telegram at the time of the killing of Alfred Welch, that his brother Manuel murdered him cold blood, claiming that Alfred owed him $16,000 and that he made a threat before leaving Candelaria that he would kill Alfred unless his demand for the money was satisfied. Welch was bound over to appear before the Grand Jury without bail. Manuel's plea is self defense. He says that Alfred started for a shotgun that set in a corner of the office at Lodie during a conversation of their affairs and that he (Manuel) stopped him by shooting.

Obtaining Money Under False Pretenses.
R. C. Doan, the barber who recently opened a shop in Chase & Boyington's corner, was arrested yesterday at Verdi by Constable Upson on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, and brought back here and lodged in jail. It is alleged that he rented the chairs and other furniture that his shop was furnished with, and then sold out, furniture and all, and was on his way to California when pulled. He will tell his story to Judge Linn.

"The Empress."

Miss Gibbs, the fashionable milliner, and proprietor of a fancy goods establishment on Virginia street, has named her new shop "The Empress," and by that name it will hereafter be known. "The Empress" presents the finest display of holiday novelties ever opened in Reno. Do not fail to attend the Xmas opening on Friday evening, November 27th. A large variety of Xmas goods will be displayed.

Good Looks.

Good Looks are more than skin deep, depending upon a healthy condition of the vital organs. If the liver be inactive, you have a bilious look; if your stomach is disordered you have a dyspeptic look and if your kidneys be affected you have a pined look. Secure good health and you will have good looks. Electric Bitters is the great alternative and Tonic acts directly on these vital organs. Cures Pimples, Blisters, Boils and gives a good complexion. Sold at Wm. Finner's drugstore, 50 c. per bottle.

Death from Typhoid Fever.

Frank Reigelbuth, the dancing teacher and musician, died yesterday afternoon at 4:15 of typhoid fever, after a week's illness. Mr. Reigelbuth came here a little over a year ago from Eureka and had made many friends. He leaves a wife and one or two children to mourn his untimely death.

Are Your Children Subject to Croup?
As a preventive and cure for croup, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has no rival. It is, in fact, the only remedy that can always be depended upon and that is pleasant and safe to take. There is not the least danger in giving it to children, as it contains no injurious substance. For sale at 50 cents per bottle by J. B. McCullough, Druggist.

A VISIT TO THE RESERVATION.

Johnson Sides Tells What He Saw—Indians All Happy.

Johnson Sides has just returned from a tour of the Pyramid Lake Reservation. He says "Injuns all happy and contented and hap (happy)." He says Captain Warner "keep all boys very busy haul rock and build dam."

Johnson says "Injuns mus' all work—no use talkin' for benefit of our children," and that Captain Warner is teaching them how to make a living by industry. Johnson says the reservation is in fine shape and that Warner is making valuable improvements in every way. He says the Indians are very happy and contented and the children are all receiving a good education. "But at same time no use talkin' for mus' all work and obey law of government. Christnush we want hap' time and all boy and girl have good time, that's what we wish." Captain Dave said the same thing, and the most of the Indians have no kick coming for the way they are treated.

CHICKEN RAISING.
What Has Been Done in a Small Way at Poultry Raising.

W. H. Bechtel of Reno bought about the first part of January last 35 common barnyard chickens, for which he paid $17.50. He also bought two turkeys and paid $3 for them and two ducks that he paid $1.50 for, making a total investment of $22. He turned them into his small yard on Center street and began gathering eggs. He says he paid out for feed, wheat, bran, etc., $75.50 and now has 63 chickens, 31 50; 9 ducks, $4.50; and 3 turkeys, $6.00. Total valuation, $122.60. He has sold from his flock $133.60 worth and used $50 worth of eggs and chickens in his own family. That shows a clear cash profit of $108.10, besides $20.60 increase in the flock. It is published to show the money that is to be made in the chicken business if intelligently conducted.

A New Smelter.
Burke Brothers leave Sunday morning for Lovelock, where they go to put up smelting works for H. H. Hutchins, sixteen miles southeast of the village. The country around Lovelock is attracting a good deal of attention from the east now and there promises to be some startling developments in the mines about there. It is not only a good mining country, but the agricultural advantages cannot be best anywhere on the coast.

A regular meeting of the Women's Guild of Trinity Church will be held at the residence of Mrs. A. R. Chambers, Saturday, Nov. 28. A full attendance is requested.

Santa Claus has arranged his headquarters at the "Candy Kitchen." Call and examine the beautiful holiday goods, plush goods, toys, etc., to be sold at living prices.

If you want to buy John B. Stetson & Co.'s hats, go to S. Jacobs', the leading merchant tailor and clothier. He sells 20 per cent cheaper than any house in Reno.

Thoroughly Fumigated.
Dr. Patterson has had the school house at North Glendale, and the Van Meter house, thoroughly fumigated, and the germs of diphtheria are thoroughly killed in that locality. The doctor is entitled to much credit for his heroic treatment of that disease. He has not had a case of diphtheria for two or three weeks. Although Dr. Patterson has been here but a short time, he already ranks at the head of his profession and has a splendid practice and is gaining in popularity daily.

Certainties.
"The continual dropping of water wears away the stone." So continual headache wears away the brain forces. And it is equally as true that Cephalin wears away headache, and that quickly. All druggists are agents.

A LONG-TERM PRISONER.

Liberation of an Italian Brigand After a Confinement of Sixty Years.
The other day, after sixty years of imprisonment, part of which was passed in the prison hospital, the Italian brigand and chief Domenico Nocchi was liberated, and passed through Naples to Rome, where it is probable, as he has no living relative, that he will be placed in some asylum, for he suffers from asthma and a disease of the leg.

This old brigand chief, says the Philadelphia Telegraph, was born eighty-three years ago near Viterbo, where at fourteen years of age he killed the squire and his brother, a priest, because he had heard they wanted to have him arrested. After the murder he fled and joined a band of brigands, leading the life of highwayman and house-breaker for some years, during which, he says, more than a million francs passed through his hands.

When he was at school previously at Montefiascone he had been the companion of Pope Leo, and, being a good mathematician, was at that early age made to teach his fellow scholars. When he became a brigand he used to dress like a superior officer, and quietly frequent the towns of Piedmont, Tuscany, etc. Of the Neapolitan provinces only the Abruzzi were favorable to his life. It was a somewhat of his who finally enabled the brigands to arrest him without shedding blood. The price that had been set on his head was thirty-five thousand francs, which the brigands gained.

He was taken, together with five companions, who were all beheaded. Nocchi was saved by Prince Orsini, president of the senate, because when the prince had one evening been stopped and robbed by the band Nocchi had set his face and restored all that had been taken. Nocchi was, however, condemned to prison for life, but he did not refuse to commit crimes. In 1841, being vexed with the reproaches of the clergy because he refused to kneel and kiss the crucifix, Nocchi killed the priest by a stratagem. July 2, 1855, he had been irritated by a dentist failing to extract a torturing tooth, and had treacherously sharpened a large nail and killed the dentist with two blows.

In 1856, having made a complicated calculation of all the expense of the Government within ten days, while his prison companions had not been able to furnish it in a month, he gained a prize of fifty francs from the commandant, colonel. Twice he tried to commit suicide—once at Pesaro, where he swallowed a blister that had been put on a companion's arm, but, he said, without result, as it was as if he had merely eaten a pastry. The second time he had cut a vein in his arm, but this, too, failed.

HE DODGED THE WEDDING.

Why No Tears Were Shed When the Grenadier Guards Left Bermuda.
The recent departure of the Grenadier Guards from Bermuda did not cause many regrets among the islanders, said a well-known Bermudian representative of the New York world recently. "Though the officers of the guards are the cream of the British military, they and all other soldiers have fallen into disrepute down there owing to the treatment one of Bermuda's most popular young ladies received."

"When the officers of the guards had secured their entire into the best island society this girl fell a victim to the blind god, and everybody, from Gibbs' Hill lighthouse to St. George, was glad to hear that a big wedding with an officer would result. The prettiest of tresses were secured at New York and all the arrangements for the ceremony were made with great elaboration. The bride's father is rich and of social position, and the affair was to be memorable in the social history of the island."

"The night before the wedding the bride's room gave a farewell dinner to his bachelor friends. In the morning he was gone. A ship that had veighed anchor during the night was supposed to have carried him off. He left no word and at first there was wonder."

"It was the first time such a trick had been played on a Bermuda belle, and it was something the natives could not forget. Gradually indignation arose which came to manifest itself in social indifference to the entire body of islanders. This was why no tears were shed when the guards left Bermuda."

Every democratic newspaper has on hand a cut of "a rooster" in the act of crowing. This is invariably printed at the head of a column announcing a party victory. The custom originated in Indiana in 1849, according to "Political Americanism." There were doubts as to the result of the local election. The editor of the Indianapolis Sentinel, Chapman by name, was accused of premature crowing by the rival wishy-wash, the expression "Crow, Chapman, Crow," being used as a headline. Retorts showed that the alleged crowing was justified, and Mr. Chapman, in his next issue, printed for the first time the emblem that has become so popular—an elderly victorious rooster, with the legend "We Crow" printed underneath. There are other versions of the rooster's birth, but the foregoing appears upon the whole the most trustworthy.

WEDDING SUPERSTITIONS.

The Scottish People Given to Believing in the following:
In the matter of courtships and weddings Scottish people preserve an extraordinary number of peculiar customs and all fanciful superstitions, writes a correspondent of the Boston Transcript. It is deemed unlucky to alter the first words of an engagement ring. Many troths have been broken as a result. The giving of bridesmaids and brides, a full of ill consequences. A young man or woman, in the tender relation, will take a pin from the other without returning the same after suit. Pins, needles, etc., are all emblematic of the cessation of friendship and affection. It is very fortunate for the bride to wear some borrowed article of apparel at her wedding. If she crosses the path of the bride party before it, it is an omen of the direst import; but if they should cross its path behind the party it would be a happy omen. A wedding after sunset augurs a bride a joyless life, the loss of children and an early grave. In the south of Scotland a rainy day for a wedding is an un-

"From personal knowledge and observation I can say that Castoria is an excellent medicine for children, acting as a laxative and relieving the pain of bowels and general system very much. Many mothers have told me of its excellent effect upon their children."

The latest craze to strike Philadelphia is the wearing of the "Oudja," a pretty little Egyptian charm, supposed to ward off all forms of evil, says the Philadelphia Record. The charm is thin, and is about an inch long and half an inch wide. A conspicuous figure is the eye of the "Horus," which represents the sun, and a tear drop hanging pendant from the eye represents the river Nile. The little charm, which has been worn in England for a couple of years, has been indispensable to the superstitious Egyptians for many centuries. A pretty story explains the English craze. A young officer in the English army sent one home to his bride with an explanation of its origin. After a battle in the Sudan the young officer was reported dead, but the wife refused to believe it. Later on, the official dispatches confirmed the death, but still the bride had faith in the little charm. Several months later the missing husband turned up alive and well and the "Oudja" became a fad of great proportions.

An Old-Timer.
According to the Denver (Col.) News, there is in that city a man nearly one hundred and fifty years old. His name is said to be Jonas Carpenter, a native of Virginia. The family Bible gives the date of his birth as 1752, but at that time, he states, he was driving an ox team in Gen. Braddock's army during the Indian wars of that period. He has an old forty-dollar Continental bill which he received during the war for services as a teamster, and he has kept it ever since. He is said to be in first-rate health.
